10000 Poets Palace
Somewhere, Canada

Dear Ms. Kaur,

Some people never notice our neighbors falling through the cracks, or our children fearing for their future. Others notice and do nothing.

But you noticed. And, you took action.

Right now, at this very moment, your generosity is fighting that indifference.

Other Texans all around us are living better, brighter lives because of people like you, who understand that a momentary kindness can patch the holes in a failing world and bring hope to people used to being overlooked.

You donated $XXXX to the Justice for All Campaign, and joined a community of visionaries committed to making life better for folks most in need, one lawyer at a time.

It can feel like a small thing, but we know better.

Because of you, legal aid was able to help more Texans keep a roof over their head, escape violence, get paid for their work, and secure many other basic human needs.

A donation – the moment when each of us decides to stand up for more than ourselves – that's when a better world starts to take shape.

Thank you for noticing. For taking action. For your kind heart. And, for your generous donation.

The thousands of people who received help from legal aid and I are deeply grateful.

Very truly yours,

Trish McAllister
